How To Make:

1. Take a length of white voile fabric and wrap around the chair back in a figure eight before tying into a loose knot. Secure with a safety pin.
2. Die-cut a number of medium and large pink petals to create the bloom.
3. Scrunch the petals into a ball and flatten out again to soften the card and add a more natural texture.
4. Take one of the medium petals and curl back the tips of the petals before rolling into a tube and securing with glue, this will form the centre of your flower.
5. Start to build the other petals around the centre until you achieve the size of bloom that you require.
6. Repeat the steps above to create two further blooms and attach all three together at the base using a hot glue gun.
7. Die-cut all the foliage in several shades of card and add dimension by curling the individual leaves using a large ball end stylus and foam mat, this also creates a more natural texture.
8. Use the glue gun to attach the leaves around the flowers together with strategically placed wired pearl decorative accents.
9. Once your flower and foliage are assembled you can now attach them to the centre of the knot on the back of the chair.
